

Finality

Off-line video indexing

Give Your Assets New Life

With Finality you can index a digital video file and populate your own Searchable Video Library. Give your video assets new life: find the clips you want, when you want and finally make the best use of your assets.

Reuse, Repackage and Redistribute Video

With Finality, your assets never sleep. Reuse them in a new production, sell them to a third party, or repackage them for a different viewing platform. Finality lets you find the right clip at the right time from a standard Web browser.

Fast, off-line indexing. Describe video content in a flash: play the video, shuttle, mark segments of interest in and out, enter descriptions in full text down to the required level of detail and copy and paste descriptions between segments. Finally, indexing made intuitive and natural!

Easy navigation with timeline view. Finality's timeline view lets you assess an entire production index at a glance. The timeline makes navigation and manipulating descriptions easy.

Web-based pre-editing. After you finish indexing, the complete index is automatically loaded on the Searchable Video Library. There, the entire staff or third-party users can search, play, select clips and build and email stories, all from a Web browser.

Use Finality as companion to Reality. Load an index created live with Reality (available separately) and modify or refine it. Then automatically update the Searchable Video Library with the latest index.
